To all the members of the Visva Bharati community

We are living through a global crisis, one that demands a great deal from us as individuals, families, and perhaps most importantly, as a community. With this missive, I thank each and every member of the Visva Bharati community for their continued support in these uncertain times. I would like to extend my gratitude especially to our doctors, paramedics, cleaning staff and security staff for their relentless efforts on the field. Our teaching and administrative staff have seamlessly adapted to working online, as have our students. Visva Bharati's collective response to COVID-19 has been nothing short of exemplary, thanks to the pains that these groups have taken to act swiftly and assiduously in response to the pandemic. As we shoulder on through this nationwide lockdown, I would remind the Visva Bharati family to stay safe and connect with each other socially, if not physically, and to continue to offer understanding and support to the more vulnerable members of our community, including those living in our adopted villages. I would also request that everyone steer clear of fake news, fearmongering, and hearsay in this time, for the sake of preserving one's mental and physical health.

We're all in this together, and together, we shall overcome.
